

Using E1

This textbook consists of five chapters. Together they make sure you work with all the competence aims in the curriculum.

The first four chapters cover topics that you are expected to be able to communicate about:

- 1 Who Are You?
- 2 English Everywhere
- 3 Culture and Diversity
- 4 Citizenship

These chapters all start with an introductory article ①, written especially for you by a Norwegian expert. Use it to gain an overview of the topic, useful terminology and as a model for writing and using sources.

This article also introduces you to the wide range of relevant authentic material ② that follows, marked by grey colour. These texts go in depth and allow you to explore the topic from various angles. Hopefully, by reading a selection of these you will discover links and achieve a deeper understanding of the topic.

All texts are followed by practice tasks ③. First, we ask you to practice your receptive skills by reading, watching and listening. Then, we show you, concretely, how each text serves as a model of good communication by way of examining its content, structure and language.

Finally, in the Over-to-You tasks we ask you to practice your productive skills by emulating the models. Here you are also urged to make use of the courses in Chapter 5.

Each chapter ends by focusing on preparing for the exam ④. Here you will see typical exam tasks and practice using the material you have worked with to answer these.

5 Courses

The 17 courses that together make up Chapter 5 focus on essential English language skills. By studying them closely you will improve your ability to communicate in English. The courses will serve you well in everyday life, on the exam, in further studies and in working life. Each course consists of concrete step-by-step instructions, model answers and practice tasks. We suggest you use them actively as references when working with Over-to-You tasks, writing essays or giving oral presentations.
